

Dear Coach,

I am writing you to share my recommendation of Yfke Vos with you.

I played college golf at the University of Southern California, and after graduating, I competed on the LPGA for eight years. After retiring from professional golf, I turned to coaching, where I have been able to share my experiences and hopefully contribute to bringing Dutch golf to a higher level. Through my years in the game, I have learned that talent is only one part of becoming a successful golfer. The right environment, mindset, work ethic, and people around you can make a tremendous difference.

I have known Yfke for many years and have had the opportunity to see her develop both as a golfer and as a person. Although she has not been part of the National Team for the past couple of years, she was a member for many years before that. More importantly, I have seen how much she has grown during this time. She has become more mature, both physically and mentally, and this has translated into significant improvements in her golf. Her performances have continued to develop, while many technical aspects of her game have become stronger and more consistent.

What has always stood out to me about Yfke, however, is not only her ability as a golfer, but also the person she is. She has always been a great teammate, is genuinely fun to be around, and is very supportive of the people around her. She has a real passion for the game. Coming from a golfing family, she has also grown up around people who understand the sport and everything that comes with it, which I believe has helped her develop a healthy perspective on the game.

I truly believe that Yfke has a lot of potential left to fulfil. With the right environment and the right opportunities, I believe she can continue to grow and develop and, ultimately, surprise many people with what she is capable of achieving. Having seen her journey over the years, I would be very excited to see what she can do in the right college environment.

I sincerely hope you will consider giving Yfke the opportunity to show you what she can do. I believe she would be a great addition to a team, both on and off the golf course.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration.

Good luck with the upcoming season,
